

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Dr. Concepcion C. Demausa

Dr. Demausa is a regular faculty member and a former chair of the Department of Communication, College of Arts and Sciences, University of the East Caloocan. She is a member of the Asia-Pacific Consortium of Researchers and Educators, Inc.; a Commission on Higher Education (CHED) General Education Trainer for the Art Appreciation core curriculum, and a CANVAS developer in Art Appreciation.

She is a graduate of Bachelor of Arts, major in Communication Arts at the University of the East Caloocan. She holds a Master's Degree in Education, major in English at De La Salle- Araneta University. She finished her Doctor of Education, major in Educational Administration and Leadership in 2023 at the University of the East Manila.

She is a recipient of two research grants from the Office of Research Coordination for her dissertation, Instructions Teachers and Learning Behavior of International Students: A Dynamic Cross-Cultural Model and Thematic Analysis of Popular Music in New Media as co-author. Currently, she is the coordinator in Literacy Training Service of UE NSTP- Caloocan and a Program Coordinator for Curriculum Development at the Office of Curriculum Development and Instruction (OCDI).

Dr. Ottovon Bismarck M. Dolorico

Dr. Dolorico is presently the assistant director of the UE Department of Human Resources and Development (DHRD). He has been with UE for the past 17 years in different working capacities.

He finished his Doctor of Education (Ed.D.), Major in Leadership and Management degree in 2018, Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT), Major in English in 2010 and undergraduate degree in Bachelor of Arts, Major in English in 2006 all from the University of the East Manila.

For continuous professional development, he completed the Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (IRHR) program at the University of the Philippines Diliman in November 2020.

Dr. Julian E. Abuso

Dr. Abuso was the former dean of the Graduate School of the University of the East. He has a PhD in International and Developmental Education (major in Anthropology of Education) from the University of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; an MA in International and Developmental Education from Leland Stanford Junior University in California; an M.A in Education (Social Science Education) from the University of the Philippines; and a Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education (B. S. E. Ed.) from Philippine Normal University.

Dr. Deborah A. Javier

Dr. Javier is the current Chair of Languages and Communication Arts Department of the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of the East Manila. She is also a Graduate School professor in the University of the East Manila.

She is a graduate of Bachelor of Secondary Education from Saint Louis University, Baguio City. She earned her Master of Arts in Education major in English and Master of Arts in Education major in Administration and Supervision from the National Teachers College. She obtained her Doctor of Education major in Educational Management in the same institution. She also studied Korean language at Yonsei University, Seoul, South Korea.

Dr. Javier is a frequently invited resource person locally and internationally in the field of English language teaching, research, and educational leadership. She authored and co-authored several books such as English Grammar the Easier Way, Developing English Communication Skills for College Learners, Reading and Writing in the Discipline, Integrated English Skills and Effective Communication with Personality Development. In addition, she is a consultant in the field of research and a member of various professional organizations.

Dr. Roda N. Sanares

Dr. Sanares is currently the training and support supervisor at the Center for Innovative Learning Programs (CILP) of De la Salle University Dasmariñas. She finished her Bachelor of Science in Computer Science from De La Salle University Dasmariñas in 1998 and her Master of Information Technology degree at TUP Manila in 2005. She obtained her Doctor of Information Technology degree from UE Manila in 2023.

She has been teaching at the DLSU Dasmariñas for the past 22 years and contributed significantly to the Information Technology Department within the College of Science and Computer Studies. She is also the chapter treasurer of the Philippine Society of Information Technology Educators (PSITE Region4A CALABARZON).

Dr. Reynalen Calupig-Justo

Dr. Justo is currently an assistant professor at the Laguna State Polytechnic University Santa Cruz Main Campus. She has a degree of Bachelor of Science in Information Technology and a Master in Information Technology major in Information Technology Management both of which she obtained from Colegio De San Juan de Letran Calamba. She earned a Professional Teachers Certificate from Union College of Laguna and is a licensed professional teacher. She graduated from the University of the East Manila Campus with a degree of Doctor in Information Technology.

She is a Wakelet ambassador and member of Computing Innovators of the Philippines, Inc. (CIP), Leadership in Education Academy and Development (LEAD Philippines), Philippine Association of Industrial and Technology Educators (PAITE) Inc., Philippine Association of Institutions for Research, Inc. (PAIR), Association of Scholarly Peer Reviewers (ASPR) and others.

She was awarded as one of the top presenters on the Level-up PHEI AFAR Scientific Writing for HEIs in the recent culminating activity of the collaborative project between the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) and SEARCA.

Prof. Flormay O. Manalo

Mrs. Manalo is currently Coordinator for the Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics Strand (STEM) and Science Department in Senior High School at the University of the East Manila. She is also a candidate for the Doctor of Education degree, Major in Educational Administration at the UE Graduate School.

She earned her Bachelor's Degree in Zoology in 1991 at Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Maynila, and finished her Certificate of Professional Education in 2004 at Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Maynila. As a Licensed Professional Teacher, she taught at the De La Salle Greenhills and now at the University of the East Manila (UE). She finished two master's degrees, namely Master of Arts in Education Major in Educational Administration in 2014 from Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Maynila and Master in Education, Major in Biological Science in 2019 from University of the East Graduate School.

She was also previously a writer for the Department of Education where she wrote the Health Education Teaching Guide and Health Education Learning Module, under the K to 12 Program in 2012.

Prof. Mary Grace D.C. Empasis

Ms. Empasis works as an environmental specialist at a private consultancy firm. Her responsibilities include environmental impact assessment, environmental management, environmental risk assessment, and environmental monitoring.

She earned her Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science from the Technological University of the Philippines Manila Campus and is currently completing her Master of Science in Environmental Science at the University of the East Manila Campus.