

REVIEWERS

Dr. Ma. Corazon S. Huelar

Dr. Huelar is presently the Research Coordinator of the Graduate School, University of the East, Manila. She is also the Program Coordinator in Education, Science and Arts of the University of the East Graduate School. She obtained her Bachelor of Science in Education, major in Biology and minor in Mathematics from the University of the East Manila; Masters in Education, major in Science Education and Doctor of Philosophy in Education, major in Research and Evaluation, from the University of the Philippines.

Previously, she taught in public science high school and state universities, and in private colleges and universities here and abroad. She also worked in a private industry as a Research and Education Program manager. She is also a researcher, writer, reviewer and a resource speaker in seminars and conferences. She presented her research at Harvard University and published at IJAS Journal.

Dr. Edward L. Padama

Dr. Padama is presently the OIC Dean, research coordinator, and the chair of the English Department of the College of Arts and Sciences in Arellano University. He is also the Program Coordinator for the Senior High School strands – GAS, STEM, and HUMMS of Arellano University.

Dr. Padama obtained his Doctor of Education major in Educational Leadership in 2003. He obtained his Master of Arts in Education major in English in 2010 and Master of Arts in Education major in Administration and Supervision in 1997. All his graduate degrees were obtained from the National Teachers College. His bachelor's degree is on Technical Teacher Education at Technological University of the Philippines in 1993.

His researches developed tools, guidance, and practices which focus on the field of education and research. Dr. Padama is a member of professional organizations such as Philippine Association for Teacher Education (PAFTE), Philippine Association for Language Teaching (PALT), Research and Educational Development Training Institute (REDTI), and Oxford Teachers' Club.

Dr. Julius Cesar R. Pascual

Dr. Pascual is a professor and program coordinator at the Department of Languages and Communication Arts, College of Arts and Sciences of the University of the East Manila.

He earned his PhD in Communication (with an Outstanding Ph.D. Dissertation Award) at the University of the Philippines Diliman in 2019, his M.A. in English Language Teaching (with a Best MA Thesis award) in 2010 and Mass Communication major in Bachelor in Journalism (with honors)-Secondary Education major in English at the Polytechnic University of the Philippines in 2003.

Prof. Pascual is a licensed professional Secondary Level-major in English teacher for the last 20 years, 13 of which were spent at UE, where he received a Plaque of Recognition for his Model Teacher Award in 2022. He is also involved in scholarly research, and media and government writing and consultancy. His publications focus on communication and social development; social media and relationships; political communication; media, government, and society; Filipino communicative experience; teens and spirituality; and risk and crisis communication.

Dr. Nelson C. Rodelas

Dr. Rodelas is a regular faculty member in UE Caloocan since 2012. Prior to this, he served as College Dean at Colegio de San Lorenzo and professor at the College of Engineering of the same school.

He obtained his Doctor of Information Technology degree from the University of East Manila and his Master of Science in Engineering Major in Computer Engineering from Polytechnic University of the Philippines. He finished his Bachelor of Science in Computer Engineering from UE Caloocan. Governor Andres Pascual College awarded him a Bachelor of Secondary Education degree with 24 units Major in Mathematics.

Among the major contributions of Dr. Rodelas to the field are several publications in prominent international journals covering a wide range of topics including cryptocurrency, image processing, and the Internet of Things.

Dr. Rodelas has held leadership positions in professional associations like the Mechatronics and Robotics Society of the Philippines (MRSP) and the Institute of Computer Engineers of the Philippines (ICpEP).

Dr. Alexis John M. Rubio

Dr. Rubio is currently a faculty member of the Computer Engineering Department (CpE) at UE Caloocan and concurrently holds the position of Graduate School Coordinator for IT Programs at the UE Graduate School in Manila and Compliance Officer for Privacy (COP) for UE Caloocan.

Dr. Rubio is a graduate of Bachelor of Science in Computer Engineering (BSCoE) from the University of the East (UE) Caloocan. He earned his Master in Engineering Science (MES) and a Doctor of Information Technology (DIT) from UE Manila.

He has presented multiple research projects both locally and internationally, some of which were published in respected journals in the field of Computer Engineering and Information Technology. His research interests are Embedded Systems, Robotics, Artificial Intelligence and Image Processing. Additionally, he serves as the incumbent Vice- President for Mechatronics of the Mechatronics and Robotics Society of the Philippines – NCR Chapter.

Dr. Lourdes P. Terrado

Dr. Terrado is a Program Coordinator of the University of the East - Graduate School since 2011 and a professor of the undergraduate and graduate Programs of University of the East since 2009. She received her Doctor of Education major in Educational Management in 2005 as a Student Financial Assistance Program Scholar and Fund for Assistance to Private Education Scholar.

She finished her Master of Arts in Education, major in Child Study (ECE) in 1990 at the Philippine Normal University. She earned her Bachelor of Science in Education major in Biology at University of Sto. Tomas.

Her research focuses on educational policies and practices. She worked in Angelicum College as Head of Human Resources Department, Director for Student Affairs, Science Coordinator, and a Science Teacher in Basic Education program.

Dr. Alexander C. Balcoba

Dr. Balcoba is a full-time and tenured faculty of the University of the East Manila, College of Arts and Sciences, Department of Languages and Communication Arts, where he holds the rank of full professor. He is currently the Program Coordinator for Faculty Development in the Office of Curriculum Development and Instruction, University of the East Manila (Special Non-Teaching Assignment).

He earned his Doctor of Education major in Educational Administration and Leadership from the University of the East, his Master in Language Teaching with AB English units from the Polytechnic University of the Philippines, and his Bachelor of Science in Physical Therapy from Fatima College.

From May 2014 to May 2021, he served as a Researcher-Writer (Special Non-Teaching Assignment) at the Office of Research Coordination, University of the East Manila. He authored and co-authored a number of researches which he presented and published locally and internationally aside from co-writing several books.

Dr. Balcoba is an associate member of National Research Council of the Philippines (NRCP), Division 1, Governmental, Educational, and International Policies, a lifetime member of the American Studies Association of the Philippines (ASAP), and Foundation for Upgrading the Standard of Education, Inc. (FUSE).

Dr. Axel H. Arriola

Dr. Arriola is currently the chair of the Department of Natural Sciences of the College of Arts and Sciences, UE Manila. He obtained his PhD in Biology at the University of Santo Tomas.

His research interests include molecular phylogenetics, plant systematics and evolution and plant DNA Barcoding. Dr. Arriola's contribution to science includes his discoveries such as a new genus and various novel species of plants endemic to the Philippines which he has published in Scopus-indexed journals.

He is a recipient of various foreign research grants such as DAAD and the Bentham-Moxon Grant for visiting botanist in Germany and UK respectively.